SourceBody.com to Set In Motion Comprehensive Online Resource for Vegans.

New online company to offer e-commerce shopping, informational resources, and a communal meeting place for anyone curious about a plant-based lifestyle.

Tampa, Florida: New startup venture, SourceBody.com to launch an all vegan website encompassing a wealth of products and resources for anyone wishing to lead a healthy lifestyle. The company will be focusing its energies on providing health conscious people with resources on all things plant-based and products derived naturally, without the use of harsh manufacturing practices.

SourceBody.com will feature an online e-commerce marketplace for visitors offering items ranging from food to body care products at discounted prices from that of brick and mortar stores.

In addition to selling natural/plant-based food items, the website will also give its users a diverse and concentrated listing of vegan restaurants located around the world. There will also be an organized educational resource section on overall well-being promoting plant-based recipes, fitness regimens, and wellness videos for self-motivated health enthusiasts.

Moreover, this online company supports plant-based merchants, entrepreneurs, and producers, as they will be featuring new products and services from these all-natural vendors. Their products and services will be sold via SourceBody.com as well, creating a boutique marketplace for vegans and non-vegans alike.

To make this experience a completely enriching one, SourceBody.com will also offer a community situated forum supporting and connecting like-minded individuals.

In an era, where being vegan is environmentally responsible, cruelty free, and simultaneously resulting in superb health benefits, there is no better time than now to embrace a wholesome way of living. SourceBody.com is poised to be the biggest online destination for the best in plant-based products, services and resources to help you live a healthy, compassionate, and sustainable life.
